Dane Deutsch Announces Candidacy for 25th Senate District

(Rice Lake, WI)... Citing concerns about high unemployment, high taxes and out-of-touch Madison politicians, Dane Deutsch announced he will run against incumbent Bob Jauch for the 25th State Senate district. The 25th State Senate district includes all of Douglas, Bayfield, Ashland, Iron, Washburn counties and parts of Sawyer, Barron, Polk and Burnett counties.

“Wisconsin families are very worried about losing their jobs, and watch hopelessly as Madison politicians raise their taxes and drive jobs to business-friendly states,” said Dane Deutsch, a small business owner of over 20 years. “As your next State Senator, I will work tirelessly to keep businesses and good-paying jobs here and stop big-spending government.”

According to Forbes Magazine, Wisconsin has the unfortunate rank as the third worst state in the nation in which to do business. Wisconsin is in the top ten highest property tax states, while the Wisconsin Taxpayer’s Alliance estimates that recent tax increases may move Wisconsin from 11th to the 6th highest-taxed state in the union. “Wisconsin’s worsening job climate keeps small and large businesses alike from growing, or staying in, our communities,” said Dane. “Once these jobs move to other states, they’re hard to get them back. We’d be better served by politicians who actually try to keep the jobs we have now with a better jobs and tax climate.”

“The one question I will ask myself before voting on any bill in Madison is ‘Will this help create jobs, or will it kill jobs?’,” said Dane. “I believe that reducing taxes on businesses and personal property will allow small businesses and citizens to once again grow jobs and revenue.” This year alone the Democrat-controlled Legislature passed over $5 billion in new taxes and fees on families and businesses to pay for a 6.8% increase in government spending.

Dane Deutsch, a former Air Force Officer, and his wife Katharine have four adult children and one grandchild. He is the CEO and owner of Deutsch’s, Inc., which is composed of three companies: Deutsch’s Gymnastics Training Center, DCS Netlink (Security/Network/Computer Company), and Leadership Management Development Center (LMDC). Dane is a Character Counts Ambassador and national trainer.
